BREAST CANCER HEARING
LOURDES DEL RIO. MIAMI, FLORIDA
PKG 2:17

Breast ultrasounds found 100 percent of suspicious cancers in women under 40 who found lumps or other suspicious areas of the breast, offering a cheaper, less-invasive alternative to surgery or biopsies, U.S. researchers said Wednesday. They said targeted ultrasound -- which examines just the area of the breast where a lump is identified -- should become the standard of care for women under 40. The findings may address some of the concerns raised by a federal advisory panel about breast exams done by women or doctors to investigate lumps or hot spots in the breast, which most often turn out to be harmless.

HEALTH CARE BILL

LOURDES MELUZA. WASHINGTON, DC

PKG 2:11

Even though Democrats in the Senate appear to be ready to get rid of the public option -- it looks like the coalition backing President Barack Obama's health care bill is still together. A compromise that's in the works would include private insurance plans under the auspices of the federal employee health program. And it would also allow middle-aged people to buy into Medicare. And a leading liberal, former party chairman Howard Dean, is signaling that he could live with that. But a powerful small business group is voicing its objections to the Democratic bill. The National Federation of Independent Business says it would raise costs and make it harder to create jobs.
