

Dear Mr.Bridgeman,

March 21, 2007

I really enjoyed your presentation yesterday. When I got home I watched your channel, and took note of all the commercials. I learned all kinds of things about the T.V. and news business. I love to watch T.V. but before you came I never really took notice of all the different advertisements. I've tried to count all the different advertisements I've seen today but there are just too many! I guess you see a lot more than I do.

Thank-you,
Emily Warpool

Dear Mrs. Bridgeman,

Thank you
For coming to our school. The shirts and bracelets are really nice. Now that you come to our school I watch your TV shows more. I learn more things about the shows. Come back to our school another time.

Thank you!

Dear Mr. Bridgeman,

Thank you for your presentation and the bands and shirts. I didn't wear mine, but about - 8-10 kids did today.

Your presentation was interesting. I learned a lot of things that I didn't know about advertisement before. I didn't get a chance to watch your channels yesterday, (my brother got control of the remote.) but I think my parents watched it last night.

Again, thanks for teaching us about TV. I enjoyed it.

Sincerely,

Carolyn M.

Dear Mr. Bridgeman,

Thank you for coming to our school and talking about your very important job.
Advertising is very important because if nobody advertised we wouldn't know what to buy.

Also thank you for the shirts and the wristbands. I'm a really big collector of the wristbands and now my collection is bigger.

Thank you again for speaking to us now
I might know more than my daddy.

Love,

Lora

Dear Mr. Bridgeman,

Thanks for coming yesterday and teaching us about advertising. You were great! I wear the shirt every day at home. Jacob loves the wristband.
When do both stations come on?

Sincerely,
Josh
