01/07/06 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "The Girl Next Door"- reports on two instances in which forensic sculptors were called upon to help identify murder victims:

- 1) on the night of May 1, 2003, a teenage girl's body was found in a trash bag left behind a restaurant in Castro Valley, California. The gruesome discovery became detective Scott Dudek's obsession and touched the entire community, which came to call the young girl "Castro Valley's Jane Doe." The community rallied to raise money to bury her. Then, two years after "Jane" was found, as a last-ditch effort to identify the girl, Detective Dudek of the Alameda County Sheriff's office made the decision to exhume the body to search for clues that might have been missed. Forensic artist Gloria Nusse created a forensic reconstruction of Jane's face based on nothing but the skull in the hope that someone might recognize her. Detectives have tracked down over 800 leads to identify "Jane", and more than 350 missing girls have been ruled out.
- 2) an interview with forensic sculptor Frank Bender of Philadelphia whose facial reconstruction helped solve another murder. Gregory May disappeared in January 2001 from Bellevue, Iowa -- his children suspected foul play. When May's antique collection turned up for auction, police found the seller to be May's former friend and house-mate Doug DeBruin. Subsequently police found a skull at a truck stop hundreds of miles from Iowa. Bender was brought the skull to reconstruct the face -- and authorities later identified it as May. Other portions of May's body were located providing sufficient evidence to bring DeBruin to trial for murder. Includes an interview with Ellen Leach of the Doe Network, a group of amateur detectives dedicated to helping law enforcement solve cold cases by scouring the Internet searching for missing persons and unidentified persons and matching them up. 01/21/06

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "The Phone Call"- when Shannon Melendi, a 19-year-old sophomore at Emory University in Atlanta disappeared in March 1994, authorities believed she had either run away or had taken part in a college prank. Melendi's roommate, Athena Perez, became worried when her friend didn't return to the dorm room the evening of March 26. The next day, Perez and her friends found Melendi's abandoned car with the keys in it and called police. Following an extensive police search of the area that turned up no signs of the missing girl, the Melendi family and friends began their own aggressive search, offering a $10,000 reward for information and tapping into celebrities Andy Garcia and Bo Jackson who appeared on national television programs in an effort to help find Shannon. Nearly two weeks after Melendi vanished, an anonymous male phoned the Emory University counseling center claiming he had Shannon. The FBI traced the call to a pay phone where police found evidence that was intentionally left behind by the caller, a package containing a ring that belonged to Melendi. Only then did authorities treat the case as a kidnapping. Investigators managed to trace pieces of the package to Colvin "Butch" Hinton III, an umpire at the softball field where Melendi worked the day she went missing. Authorities searched Hinton's home and property but found no human remains and nothing that could be linked to Shannon. They did uncover the fact that Hinton had a violent criminal past covering decades. In late 2003, a new prosecutor took up the case, and more than ten years after Shannon Melendi disappeared, police and FBI agents arrested "Butch" Hinton and charged him with her murder. Hinton was tried, found guilty of kidnapping and murder, and sentenced to life in prison. Yvonne and Luis Melendi, Shannon's parents, have set their sights on a new mission, seeking longer prison sentences for sexual predators, especially repeat offenders like Hinton. 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Rage On The Run" - bodybuilder David Bieber of Ft. Myers, Florida started using steroids in high school and as an adult began selling them to support his expensive career. Bieber went into business with fellow bodybuilder Markus Mueller, a German who was able to smuggle the drugs into the U.S. from Europe. Bieber had an affair with Mueller's girlfriend, Danielle LaBelle, and subsequently married her. In February 1995, Bieber drove LaBelle to Mueller's home to retrieve her purse while he waited in the car. When LaBelle found Mueller dead in the doorway she suspected that Bieber had killed him. Two men admitted to police that Bieber had hired them to kill Mueller, but before he could be arrested, Bieber disappeared. He bought the birth certificate of a deceased child, Nathan Wayne Coleman, and took on his identity and, in 1996, fled to Leeds, England where he was undiscovered for almost eight years. On Dec. 26, 2003, Leeds police approached a car that was parked strangely on the side of the road. The vehicle turned out to be stolen and the driver, Coleman, in the process of being handcuffed, opened fire on the three unarmed arresting officers and escaped. One officer died of his wounds and a nationwide manhunt was launched. Bieber was finally apprehended, tried for the murder of the police officer, and sentenced to life in prison. Danielle LaBelle divorced Bieber in 2003. There are no plans to try him for the murder of Markus Mueller. A change of plans put Ashley in sole charge of two children -- five-year-old Madeline and 19-month-old Freya. When Morningstar and her boyfriend Gracian Cline were out, Ashley said she heard a thud from the room where Freya was sleeping. On finding Freya in a fetal position groaning, Ashley called 911, and an ambulance rushed the child to a hospital where, two hours later, she was pronounced dead. Doctors told police that it appeared that the toddler had been violently shaken: she had major head injuries, including a blood clot in her brain. Ashley, having been interrogated by police for hours without the presence of a parent or an attorney, was tried for the child's murder. Because of the lack of evidence the case was dismissed and Ashley can never be retried for the murder of Freya Garden. Her parents are considering a civil law suit against the state of Washington. Evidence showed that Thomas Murray had been researching how to hire an assassin and how to get away with murder. Murray was tried, found guilty of first degree murder and sentenced to life in prison. 48 HOURS

03/04/06

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "The Highest Stakes"- In October, 2005, Christie Wilson, a 27-year-old Sacramento, California woman went alone to Thunder Valley Casino to gamble -- and vanished. Four days after she was declared missing, police found that the casino's security system showed that she had left with Mario Garcia, a 53-year-old married father of two. It was discovered that Garcia had a prior criminal record including charges of rape, assault with a deadly weapon and spousal abuse. After lengthy investigation, police felt they had a case based on the following evidence: hairs found in Garcia's car; the casino video; and Garcia's appearance -- a black eye and facial scratches. Despite the absence of a murder weapon, eyewitnesses and physical evidence to prove that Christie Wilson is dead, Mario Garcia was arrested, charged with murder and will go to trial in April. (C: Erin Moriarty - Sr. P: Peter Schweitzer - P: Paul LaRosa)

03/11/06 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Texas Confidential" - followup to "The Bookie's wife" (OAD: 01/11/02), a report on the 1997 murder of Doris Angleton, the wife of a successful Houston, Texas bookie. Doris' husband Bob, who claimed that his brother Roger was Doris' killer, was tried for the crime in state court and acquitted. More than three years later, federal prosecutors once more charged him with murder, planning to introduce new evidence -- an audio tape made by Vanessa Leggett, a true-crime writer who had interviewed Roger Angleton in jail. Four days before Bob's federal murder trial was to begin, he fled to Amsterdam where he was arrested by Dutch officials and charged with entering the country with forged documents. Angleton's lawyers cited an international treaty prohibiting the Dutch government from extraditing him to Texas to face murder charges a second time. In September 2004, Bob Angleton was brought back to the U.S. He pled guilty to passport and tax fraud and was sentenced to 12 years in federal prison. Once out of prison, the only way he can avoid another murder trial is to leave the U.S. permanently. (C: Richard Schlesinger - Sr. P: Al Briganti - P: Loen Kelley)

03/18/06 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Dark Side Of The Mesa" - in November 2001 Michael Blagg, returned to his Grand Junction, Colorado home to find a bloody bed and an empty jewel box -- but no sign of his wife Jennifer or their six-year-old daughter Abby. When investigators learned that Blagg and his wife had argued over his addiction to hard-core pornography, Blagg became the prime suspect. When a search of the county landfill produced Jennifer's remains, the District Attorney charged Blagg with first degree murder. Michael Blagg was tried for murder in March of 2004, convicted and sentenced to life in prison. Abby has never been found. Includes interviews with: Steve King, Mesa County Sheriff's investigator; the Reverend Art Blankenship, pastor of the Blaggs' Evangelical Church, and his wife Rhonda; Marilyn Conway, Jennifer's mother; David Loman, her brother; David Eisner, Blagg's attorney; and District Attorney Frank Daniels. Also included in this episode: "Nightmare In Honduras" - a report on the 2002 gunshot death of Randall Latona at his villa in Honduras. Honduran officials classified the death as a suicide. Latona's family disagreed, and filed a wrongful death suit against his former girlfriend, Leslie Ann Spiering. The family was awarded a $2.5 million judgment and, though they do not expect to get any of the money, they hope to use the court judgment as leverage with Honduran officials to reopen the investigation into his death and prosecute Spiering for murder.
