Programs Providing Most Significant Treatment of Community Issues:
Health Services and Medical Care

Health Services and Medical Care	4/13/2012	Editorial	There's an old saying that you should never trust a skinny chef. Now it appears a hospital in Texas is taking a similar approach when it comes to health care. Citizens Medical Center in Victoria, Texas instituted a policy that in essence states "the obese need not apply."
Health Services and Medical Care	5/4/2012	Editorial	On May 19 th , the American Cancer Society will launch Cancer Prevention Study 3, a multi-year research project designed to discover possible ways to prevent cancer. Previous Cancer Prevention Studies revealed the link between smoking and cancer, and the recent link between daily aspirin usage and a lowered risk of cancer.

Health Services and Medical Care	6/1/2012	Editorial	Bloomberg's argument is that soda causes obesity. Yet cigarettes cause cancer and we don't place a limit on how many cigarettes a person can smoke per day, and cancer is much harder to cure than obesity. I can't criticize Bloomberg for wanting to do something about obesity in America, but banning large sodas isn't the answer.
Health Services and Medical Care	6/15/2012	Editorial	When children go from having regular, organized PE in school to lazy summer days on the couch or in front of the computer, they run the risk of gaining weight.

Public Safety and Crime	5/21/2012	Editorial	Those who don't wear seatbelts are in the minority. Their reasons for not wearing them are varied, but not valid. This week, law enforcement agencies across Alabama begin their annual "Click it or Ticket" campaign. And since our state law is a zero tolerance law, you won't get off with just a warning.
Public Safety and Crime	5/25/2012	Editorial	We can all make a difference when it comes to crime. Try to do your shopping during the day, when more people are out and when the thieves don't have the cover of darkness to hide under. And if you do find yourself in the area when a crime is committed, don't try to be a hero.
Public Safety and Crime	5/25/2012	Editorial	Many working parents will leave their children in the care of others during the day. Before you hire that sitter, do your homework. Interview potential babysitters for the job just as if they were applying for a position at a Fortune 500 company.

Public Safety and Crime	6/1/2012	Editorial	The sport of cycling has been growing in popularity in recent years, both as a form of recreation and a great way to exercise. If you and your children plan to go cycling this summer, make sure everyone is wearing a helmet. Teach your kids to follow the rules of the road and don't let your children ride at night.
Public Safety and Crime	6/15/2012	Editorial	Alabama has a "move over" law that requires motorists to change lanes or, if they can't do that safely, slow down by at least 15 miles an hour when they see an emergency vehicle on the shoulder of the road.
