

WITN-TV/DT Washington, NC

QUARTERLY LISTING OF COMMUNITY ISSUES AND PROGRAMS

October 1, 2012 – December 31, 2012

Education

Program: WITN 7 News at 6:00pm

Length: 1:39

Date: October 6, 2012

Time: 6:03pm

WITN 7 News reporter Lindsey Fry filed a report from the NC House 9th District Forum in which state education policy was the primary focus. Candidates Marion McLawhorn and Brian Brown discussed their positions on educational policy and spoke about the issues that needed addressing in the next legislative session.

Program: WITN 7 News at Sunrise

Length: 1:41

Date: October 18, 2012

Time: 6:25am

WITN 7 News at Sunrise anchor Heather King conducted a live interview with Charles Pippen, PTO President and Mauri Evans, Vice-President about an upcoming event at Bath Elementary School in Beaufort County. The pair spoke about the upcoming school Fall Festival and how the money raised at this event would be used to acquire ne materials and equipment for the school.

Program: WITN 7 News at Sunrise

Length: 2:12

Date: November 4, 2012

Time: 6:45am

WITN 7 News at Sunrise anchor Heather King introduced viewers to the weekly "Teacher of the Week", Katherine Dossor of Belvoir Elementary School in Pitt County. Heather spoke with the Pre-K teacher about her teaching philosophy and commitment to teaching special needs students.

Environment & Weather

Program: WITN 7 News at 6:00pm

Length: 1:32

Date: October 4, 2012

Time: 6:05pm

WITN 7 News anchor/reporter Clayton Bauman reported on plans for a solar farm project in Bath. The operation by Sunenergy will provide electricity to Duke Power and be situated on 85 acres. Josh Key with the City of Washington said that the installation of 60-thousand solar panels would generate enough electricity to light half of the city of Washington.

Program: WITN 7 News at Sunrise - Sat

Length: 2:10

Date: October 6, 2012

Time: 7:23am

WITN 7 News anchor/reporter Cassandra Bell introduced this week's edition of Zoo File from the North Carolina Zoo. Zoo spokesperson Rod Hackney talked about bats and their importance to North Carolina's ecological and environmental balance.

Program: WITN 7 News at 5:30pm

Length: 1:08

Date: November 20, 2012

Time: 5:43pm

WITN 7 News anchor/reporter Lynnette Taylor reported on the work of college student Parama Jaggi. Jaggi explained how he had developed an algae based device that clips onto an automobiles tailpipe and then changes the auto emissions to oxygen.

Health

Program: WITN 7 News at Sunrise

Length: 1:52

Date: October 1, 2012

Time: 6:25am

WITN 7 News at Sunrise anchor Heather King welcomed Dr. David Roscoe of the Hope Lodge Cancer Center. Dr. Roscoe talked up the upcoming breast cancer initiatives, including a “Pink Out” day at several area businesses who are donating 10% of proceeds to the Hope Lodge for breast cancer awareness and treatment.

Program: WITN 7 News at Sunrise

Length: 1:36

Date: October 2, 2012

Time: 6:26am

WITN 7 News at Sunrise meteorologist Jim Howard discussed the “Winning With Diabetes” program with representatives of Vidant Medical Center. Ileen Craven, Diabetes Clinical Nurse at Vidant told viewers about a program coming up at St. James Christian Ministry that would include educational speakers and diabetes screenings.

Program: WITN 7 News at 6:00pm

Length: 1:41

Date: October 2, 2012

Time 6:06pm

WITN 7 News reporter Lindsey Fry provided a report from the dedication of the new School of Dental Medicine at East Carolina University. Phyllis Horns, Health Sciences Vice-Chancellor spoke about what the opening of the new dental school means for eastern North Carolina and the outreach services that will be offered in under-served counties in northeastern North Carolina.

Local Economy

Program: WITN 7 News at 6:00pm

Length: 1:24

Date: October 2, 2012

Time: 6:06pm

WITN 7 News anchor/reporter Dave Jordan filed a report about the economic impact on the Crystal Coast of the upcoming North Carolina Seafood Festival. The 3-day festival is one of the largest in the state and extends the tourist season for the coast. Morehead City Mayor Jerry Jones explained how the festival has become the biggest fundraising event for numerous community groups in Carteret County.

Program: WITN 7 News at 6:00pm

Length: 1:42

Date: October 8, 2012

Time: 6:04pm

WITN 7 News reporter Brittany Creamer reported on plans for the Front Street Village, a development project in the town of Beaufort. Charlie Burgess, Town Manager, reported that the project was 6 months ahead of schedule and would include the opening of a 90-room inn and public bistro.

Program: WITN 7 News at 6:00pm

Length: 1:39

Date: November 16, 2012

Time: 6:03pm

WITN 7 News reporter Alize Proisy provided a report on the completion of a Habitat for Humanity home in Jacksonville. Alize spoke with Matilda Jones, the new homeowner that had been living in a small house with mold problems that complicated her health issues. The story showed the positive effect of efforts made by the local community group.