INSIDE KABBALAH

Can it help you find your soulmate, make money, have better sex? Elizabeth Vargas has an exclusive interview with the founders of the Kabbalah movement that's catching on in Hollywood and the Heartland.

TYLER PERRY

Madea Simmons, a pistol-packing, in-your-face grandmother, is entertaining audiences across the country — and has made actor, playwright and producer Tyler Perry a very rich man. Tyler Perry talks with "20/20" about the extraordinary success of "Diary of a Mad Black Woman."

UVA RAYS

Dermatologists say Mexoryl is the best protection against UVA rays; however, you cannot legally buy it in the US. The Food and Drug Administration won't approve it and they won't even say why. The FDA is charged with making sure no drug is sold unless the government is convinced it's safe and effective. Dermatologists think it's just stuck in the bureaucracy.

BREAST IMPLANTS

Breast implants are becoming a popular graduation gift for girls. 20/20 looks into why some parents are buying kids surgery for graduation. They speak with Jennifer O'Brien who says her breast implants have made her happier and more confident.

CUT RATE PLASTIC SURGERY

Some cost-conscious Americans are traveling abroad for plastic surgery. ABC's 20/20 takes a look at Costa Rica, the land of low-priced cosmetic surgery. The country is now one of the hottest spots for average Americans looking for an extreme makeover.

MAKEOVERS

Before plastic surgery turned into TV entertainment, before cosmetic procedures grossed $12 billion a year, before the notion of slicing into perfectly functioning body parts became routine, Cindy Jackson, way back in the 1980s, blazed the trail. She has made a career out of her quest for cosmetic perfection.
